INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors
Odyssey House
Salt Lake City, UT

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of Odyssey House (a nonprofit organization) as of June 30, 2006, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The prior year summarized comparative information has been derived from the Organization's June 30, 2005 financial statements and, in our report dated October 14, 2005, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Odyssey House as of June 30, 2006, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated October 19, 2006 on our consideration of Odyssey House's internal control over financial reporting and our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements of Odyssey House taken as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2006

1. ORGANIZATION BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Odyssey House (the "Organization") was incorporated under the laws of the State of Utah as a nonprofit corporation on May 28, 1970. The Organization is a nonprofit Utah corporation providing treatment of drug and alcohol addiction, emotional problems, and anti-social behavior. The treatment programs teach new values, healthy coping skills, and how to maintain drug-free, positive and productive lifestyles.

The Organization offers a full range of programs and services at the Adult, Adolescent, and Women and Children's treatment facilities including comprehensive psychiatric, medical and educational evaluations; individual, group and family therapy; therapeutic modules; practical living skills and cultural and recreational opportunities. The Organization also provides a fully-accredited educational program, vocational training, transitional living facilities, after-care services, out-patient and prevention services and ongoing support systems.

Support and Program Services

Support and program services provided by the Organization are as follows:

Adult Services

A drug-free, co-educational program for residents age 17 and older for drug and alcohol addiction, abuse victims, and psychological and/or emotional problems.

Adolescent Treatment

A treatment program which serves young people between the ages of 13 and 18. This program helps adolescents overcome problems of drug and alcohol abuse, delinquency or gang involvement and emotional or psychological problems left over from such traumas as physical or sexual abuse.

Women and Children

This program offers therapeutic, structured residential living and day treatment for adult residents, as well as specialized services for their children. The program has been designed as a residential day treatment program for women age 17 and older, with up to three children under age eight. The program offers 24-hour supervision for high-risk women with children, and focuses on treating the multi-generational cycles of drug abuse, child abuse and neglect which negatively impact family systems.

Children Services

This program offers services to children of women participating in the Women and Children program.

Outpatient

This program is designed for people who are experiencing substance abuse problems, but who do not need day or residential treatment. Services include assessment; individual, group and family therapy; psycho educational group; relapse prevention; social skills training and aftercare.

Transition House

This program offers residence in a drug-free transitional living house. These facilities provide program graduates with a supportive environment and an on-site staff specifically trained to supervise the transition from a structured program to independent living. In this environment residents gain support, receive counseling, and learn how to manage money, plan for their education and find employment.

Vocational Training

This program gives residents job training and experience as part of their treatment process. These projects also raise funds and help defray expenses for residents who are unable to afford the full cost of treatment. On-the-job training gives residents the opportunity to develop marketable job skills and work habits. Work crews receive training in problem-solving techniques, technical skills development, job safety, punctuality, and effective communication skills.

Northern Utah Corrections

Provides prevention and treatment programs within the Correctional system. This includes both group and individual therapy. The approach is an intensive process designed to produce significant positive lifestyle changes.

Management and General

Includes overall direction of the organization, general record keeping, fiscal management, public relations, personnel, and the board of directors.

Fundraising

A portion of management and general expenses has been allocated to reflect time and supplies used in fundraising efforts.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements of the Organization have been prepared on the accrual basis. The Organization follows the provisions of Statements of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 117, "Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Organizations" and SFAS No. 116, "Accounting for Contributions Received and Contributions Made."

The significant accounting policies followed are described below to enhance the usefulness of the financial statements to the reader.

Estimates in the Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Classes of Net Assets

Revenues and gains are classified based on the presence or absence of donor restrictions and reported in the following net asset categories:

- a. Unrestricted net assets represent the portion of net assets not subject to donor restrictions.
- b. Temporarily restricted net assets arise from contributions that are restricted by the donor for specific purposes or time periods.

Notes (continued)

- c. Permanently restricted net assets arise from contributions that are restricted by the donor in perpetuity.

All contributions are considered available for unrestricted use, unless specifically restricted by the donors. All expenses are reported as changes in unrestricted net assets.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash equivalents include time deposits, certificates of deposit, and all highly liquid debt instruments with original maturities of three months or less.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable - fee for service represents charges to clients for treatment services which are not paid from grants. Accounts receivable - vocational training represents charges to customers for services provided by clients participating in the vocational services program.

Accounts receivable are carried at their estimated collectible amounts. The Organization's accounts receivable are generally short-term in nature; thus accounts receivable do not bear interest. Periodically, management reviews accounts receivable and records an allowance for doubtful accounts for amounts which management believes may not be collectible. Accounts written off are charged against the allowance for doubtful accounts.

Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are recorded at acquisition cost, or if donated, at the fair market value at the date donated. The Organization capitalizes additions that exceed $10,000. Depreciation expense is provided on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives of the respective assets, which range from three to ten years. Depreciation expense for the year ended June 30, 2006 was $63,547.

Income taxes

The Organization is exempt from federal income taxes under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and therefore has made no provision for federal income taxes in the accompanying financial statements. In addition, the Organization has been determined by the Internal Revenue Service not to be a "private foundation" within the meaning of Section 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. There was no unrelated business income for the year ended June 30, 2006.

Food Stamps

The Organization receives no direct food stamp assistance from the Federal Government. When a participant in the program is receiving food stamps, these stamps are given to the Organization. The amount of food stamps received is recorded as revenue when received and as expense when used.

Contributions

Unconditional promises to give are recognized as revenue when the underlying promises are received by the Organization. Gifts of cash and other assets are reported as temporarily restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restrictions ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the Statement of Activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Government Funding

Funding from all government sources is considered to be unrestricted as long as it is expended under contract guidelines and is expended in the period for which it is contracted.

Concentrations of Credit Risks

The Organization maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts, which at times, may exceed federally insured limits. At June 30, 2006, $1,611,602 exceeded the FDIC insurance limit of $100,000, and therefore was not insured. The Organization has not experienced any losses in such account and believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash.

The Organization receives a significant amount of its funding from government sources. Decreases in this government support would have an adverse effect upon the Organization.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Organization has a number of financial instruments, none of which are held for trading purposes. The Organization estimates that the fair value of all financial instruments at June 30, 2006, does not differ materially from the aggregate carrying values of its financial instruments recorded in the accompanying statement of financial position.

Reclassifications

Certain items from June 30, 2005 have been reclassified to conform to the June 30, 2006 presentation.

3. RETIREMENT PLAN

The Organization has a defined contribution tax-deferred annuity retirement plan which covers substantially all employees. The employer contributions are calculated at five percent of gross salaries or six percent of gross salaries for employees with 10 years of service or more. The employees may make contributions to the plan not to exceed $11,000 annually. Employees are eligible to enter the plan after one year of service and are fully vested at the time of contribution. For the year ended June 30, 2006, the Organization contributed $57,842 to the plan. Other than plan contributions, the Organization has no other liability in connection with the plan.

The loan agreement stipulated that the funds be used to purchase low-income housing. As long as the building is used as low-income housing, no payments on the loan are required. If the building is used for any other purpose, Western Odyssey and the Organization, as a co-applicant, may be responsible to repay the principal and accrued interest. Management currently uses the building as required by the grant agreement and does not intend to use the building for a purpose other than that described in the grant.

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH *GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

The Board of Directors
Odyssey House
Salt Lake City, UT

We have audited the financial statements of Odyssey House (a nonprofit organization) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2006, and have issued our report thereon dated October 19, 2006. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit, we considered Odyssey House's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Odyssey House's financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the audit committee, management, Board of Directors and federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS
APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL
OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

The Board of Directors
Odyssey House
Salt Lake City, UT

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Odyssey House (a nonprofit organization) with the types of compliance requirements described in the "U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement" that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2006. Odyssey House's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of Odyssey House's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion of Odyssey House's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations." Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about Odyssey House's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of Odyssey House's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Odyssey House complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2006.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Odyssey House is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with requirements of laws, regulations, contracts and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered Odyssey House's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the audit committee, management, others within the Organization and federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
